SAILPLANE 3 MILLS 41 INTRODUCTION

Sailplane is a pure-bred 41' IRC Racer; blending performance and comfort in a true dual-purpose yacht. Build by MAT and designed by Mark Mills. The design concentrates on good all-around speed in a wide range of conditions. Although being a boat designed for racing, her deck was built with comfort and safety at the foremost importance. With a modern rig with twin spreaders, a non-overlapping jib, and her comfortable fitted interior a layout makes her a real dual-purpose yacht.

The selection and location of deck gear reflects the race-winning capability of the design, allowing a skilled crew to extract the full racing potential. The Mills 41 is a good all-around yacht with great performance and speed in a wide range of conditions.

The 3 cabin interior provides spacious accommodation, with full galley and nav facilities with a fully enclosed head. Results show the Mills 41 brings a new level of performance to the performance 40 market offering a faster design with a better deck layout and more enjoyable sailing than its competitors.
